The other three language–power relationships refer to the powers of language that are based on a language’s communicative versatility and its broad range of cognitive, communicative, social, and identity functions in meaning-making, social interaction, and language policies. Such language powers include, first, the power of language to maintain existing dominance in legal, sexist, racist, and ageist discourses that favor particular groups of language users over others.

Language is a very powerful tool for change, both positive and negative. “Language creates reality. Words have power. Speak always to create joy”. Deepak Chopra. The power of language to influence thought makes vocabulary building a critical part of education. To broaden language is to broaden the ability to think. We can see this in children, whose thinking develops hand in hand with the language.
